WE NEED YOUR HELP

In this issue of the Trestleboard there is a long list of Brothers showing UNPAID Dues. Some of these may have been paid or the Brothers moved and have not updated the Secretary, therefore did not get the renewal mailing. Please if your name is on this list contact the Secretary to straighten out your information or to pay your dues. If you know a Brother whose name is there, reach out to him about it.

Solstice at Stonehenge

From the East

The Masonic Lessons of the Solstice

The solstice, a celestial event marking the extremes of daylight and darkness, has long held significant symbolic meaning within Masonic teachings. Freemasonry, rich with allegory and symbolism, draws profound lessons from the solstice, embodying the principles of enlightenment, balance, and renewal. As we approach this pivotal moment in the solar calendar, it provides an opportune time for reflection on how these themes are interwoven into

From the West

Brethren,

As the Senior Warden, sitting in a place of contemplation and reflection, I consider that the West represents the setting sun, a symbol of life's journey toward its inevitable conclusion. It is from this perspective that I invite you to consider the profound connection between Masonry and the solstice.

From the South

Greetings from the South!

Brethren, we have reached the long and winding summer days of June. Not only is this the season where the oven of the Valley of the Sun gets turned on, but we experience our longest days and shortest nights. The sun is up early to adorn the day, all the birds are out early, people are walking and jogging, and the desert sounds are bustling at 5:30am. The new long day calls us to get out

Masonic philosophy.

In Freemasonry, the solstice represents the dual nature of human existence—light and darkness, knowledge and ignorance, life and death. The Summer Solstice, celebrated in June, signifies the zenith of light, symbolizing the pursuit of enlightenment and wisdom. This mirrors the Masonic journey of self-improvement and the quest for knowledge. The Winter Solstice, occurring in December, marks the peak of darkness, reminding Masons of the importance of introspection and the cyclical nature of life. This duality teaches that periods of reflection and inner work are as vital as moments of outward achievement.

The solstice also underscores the principle of balance, a core tenet of Masonic philosophy. The equal distribution of light and dark over the year highlights the importance of maintaining equilibrium in our lives. Masons are encouraged to strive for a balanced approach to their duties, ensuring that their personal growth does not overshadow their responsibilities to their families, communities, and lodges. This balance is not only about time but also about the harmonious development of moral, intellectual, and spiritual aspects of one's character.

Moreover, the solstice is a reminder of renewal and transformation. Just as the sun's journey shifts direction, leading to the gradual return of longer days after the Winter Solstice, Masons are reminded of the perpetual opportunity for personal renewal and growth. This lesson is particularly poignant during initiation rites, where candidates symbolically emerge from darkness into light, signifying a new beginning in their Masonic journey. The solstice thus encourages a mindset of continual self-improvement and resilience.

Masonic lodges often align their activities and ceremonies with the solstices, reinforcing their symbolic importance. The celebration of St. John the Baptist on the Summer Solstice and St. John the Evangelist on the Winter Solstice reflects this alignment, as both saints are patrons of Freemasonry. These observances serve as reminders of the Masonic values of faith, hope, and charity, and the eternal light of knowledge that guides Masons through their moral and spiritual development.

In conclusion, the solstice holds a profound place in Masonic teachings, encapsulating essential lessons of enlightenment, balance, and renewal. As Masons, the solstices are not just astronomical events but potent symbols of the journey towards personal and collective improvement. Embracing the lessons of the solstice, we can strive to live more balanced, enlightened, and purpose-driven lives, ever mindful of the light that guides our way and the darkness that prompts our growth.

Fraternally,
Michael D. Valecourt
Worshipful Master 2024

The solstice, occurring twice a year, marks the points at which the sun reaches its northernmost or southernmost position in the sky. These celestial events have held great significance for centuries, serving as powerful reminders of the cyclical nature of life and the passage of time.

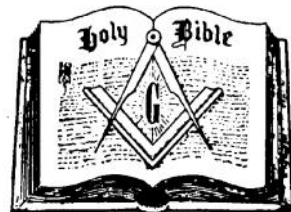

In Masonry, we often speak of the importance of light – both the physical light that illuminates our world and the spiritual light that guides our moral compass. The solstice, particularly the summer solstice, represents the peak of the sun's light and power. It reminds us of the abundant blessings we receive and the potential for growth and enlightenment within each of us.

Yet, as the sun begins its gradual descent from this zenith, we are also reminded of the fleeting nature of time and the importance of making the most of every moment. Just as the sun's light wanes, so too do the opportunities for us to make a positive impact on the world and in the lives of those around us.

As Masons, we are called to be builders – not just of physical structures, but of character, community, and legacy. The solstice serves as a poignant reminder that our time to build is finite. We must work diligently, with purpose and passion, to create a lasting impact that will endure long after our own light has faded.

Brethren, as we approach the solstice, let us reflect on the symbolism of the West and the lessons it imparts. May we be mindful of the precious gift of time and use it wisely to build a brighter future for ourselves, our Lodge, and all of humanity. Let us embrace the light while it shines and work tirelessly to leave a legacy of Masonic values that will illuminate the path for generations to come.

Fraternally,
David Earney
Senior Warden

of bed and get into labor...the earlier the better, because as we all know it gets plenty hot around here by mid-day.

This invitation to action can be a great opportunity for us to work on all the things we've set aside throughout the year, because we just didn't have enough time in the short days of winter - but now we are given the long plentiful days in the Arizona sunlight.

Now is the time to start that project you have been putting off all year. The season is providing you everything it can to nourish and motivate the most out of your efforts. Have you been wanting to write a book or your memoirs? Do it now. Have you been wanting to learn to play an instrument? Do it now. Have you been looking to digitize a life's worth of photos and memories for your children and grandchildren? Do it now. Have you wanted to start meditating? Certainly do that.

This is the time to harness nature and reflect its season in our lives. Try not to be easily seduced by the glow of television, the computer, the gaming console, or the doom scroll of your phone - that can all wait for later, if at all. I think we all have allowed ourselves to be too conditioned into non-action through media consumption, I know I have. Yet we must remember, "Memento Mori"! We only have so much time left to materialize the things that really matter to our lives. We are never too old or too young for dreams and aspirations, and this is the season to work them into reality. This is true for us individually and together as Masons. Our community in action together makes us stronger, more vibrant, and more attractive to all of those curious and interested in our ways of proceeding.

Let us make this June our most productive yet. Let's do it together and support each other in our summer projects. Next month, we will come together to work on our Lodge summer projects, so let's take the time now in June to make "real" the things that are most important to us in our hearts and in our dreams. Happy Solstice Brothers!

Brian Zeman
Junior Warden

Bikes for Books

Thank you Echo Canyon ES for partnering with Scottsdale Lodge #43 to provide 4 amazing kids with brand new bikes! The Jack Hobbs Memorial Bikes4Books Program provides students who read the most books in a semester with a new bike and helmet. The biggest reward of them all is seeing the smiles on the kids faces! A special thank you to Worshipful Master, Michael Valecourt, and Brother Will Wilkins, for presenting the bikes to the students!

From the Secretary's Desk:

Brethren all,

One of the hardest jobs of the lodge secretary is keeping the records of all the members current, particularly the addresses, phone numbers, and email addresses. The reason I bring this up is because The Post Office has returned the 2024 dues cards and 2024 due notices for the brothers listed below, If your name appears in the list below, I would appreciate your contacting the lodge office at (480) 946-1072 (leave a message if I don't answer) or preferably by email at secretary@scottsdalelodge43.com so I can correct your personal record in the lodge database.

Please pay attention to this list so I can update your information.

Also, The owner of Road Runner Notaries, LLC, paid his 2023 dues electronically, and as I have no idea who owns Road Runner Notaries, I can't send the dues card, and your 2024 dues are due.

I have a brother in Tucson who notified me of an address change to 65622 E Rocky Trail Dr, Tucson, but forgot to tell me his name, and a brother named Tom who asked for a demit in December 27, 2022, but I can't read his last name (I'm assuming he's a doctor) Nor do I have an address. I would like to clear this up, also.

I hope all you have a great summer and hope you'll be able to attend any special meetings throughout the summer, or when we return in September. If your need anything during the months of July and August, the office will be open.

Until them, travel safe.

NEEDED...RETIRED BROTHERS

We need retired brothers who would be willing to serve on the Celestial Journey Team (Funeral Team). We don't have too many funerals throughout the year normally. Sometimes there is not a lot of notice (a few days) and right now most of our list is comprised of working brothers who can't respond that quickly. Usually, the funerals only take an hour or less. Please consider dedicating your efforts to your departed brothers by serving on the Celestial Journey Team. Contact Brother Brian Zeman

Masonic Education

As an investigator for a committee tasked with evaluating new candidates for Masonic membership, your role is crucial in ensuring that the individuals seeking to join your Lodge align with the values and principles of Freemasonry. When contacting references provided by the candidate, consider asking the following questions:

- How long have you known the candidate, and in what capacity?
- Can you speak to the candidate's character, integrity, and reputation in the community?
- Have you ever known the candidate to engage in behavior that would be considered unethical or immoral?
- Does the candidate demonstrate a belief in a Supreme Being, as required for Masonic membership?
- Has the candidate shown a willingness to help others and contribute to their community?
- Is the candidate known to be a good family member, friend, and neighbor?
- Does the candidate exhibit qualities such as honesty, reliability, and a commitment to personal growth?
- Are you aware of any reasons why the candidate may not be a suitable fit for Masonic membership?
- Can you provide any additional information or insights that may help the committee in assessing the candidate's suitability?
- Do you recommend this candidate for Masonic membership without reservation?

Remember to approach these conversations with sensitivity and discretion, as the privacy of the candidate and the references is paramount. Encourage references to be candid in their responses and assure them that the information provided will be kept confidential within the committee.

In addition to these questions, pay attention to the overall tone and demeanor of the references. Do they seem genuine and enthusiastic in their endorsement of the candidate, or do they express reservations or hesitation?

As an investigator, your ultimate goal is to gather a comprehensive and honest assessment of the candidate's character and suitability for Masonic membership. By asking thoughtful questions and listening attentively to the responses, you will be well-equipped to provide the committee with the information needed to make an informed decision.

COURAGE

We gain strength, courage, and confidence each time we stop to look fear in the face. ..This is the propellant to do that which we think we cannot accomplish. Courage is resistance to fear, and the mastery thereof, not its absence. The validity of dreams is evidenced when one lacks the ability and courage to have faith in change.

Courage has been described as fear lasting a minute longer, probably more true than this flip description conveys. As we know, courage is the actualization of dulling fear. That one minute challenge to fear is the actualizing of courage. Almost photogenic is Martin Luther King's observation that dams of courage must be built to hold back the floods of fear.

Masonic Solstice

Brothers, Masonry speaks of the Solstice in terms of the changing seasons of the year and how we change ourselves through Masonry.

I have another approach, that is to look at our lives in contrast to Solstices. In our early years we were much like the Spring Solstice, growing, improving and looking forward to brighter days ahead as we planned for our future. Many of our Brothers, including myself being 82, I consider to be in the Fall Solstice or looking to the last portion of our days. Only the GAOTU knows how many days or years we have in front of us. We may still plan, yet with a cautious awareness of our mortality, that we may not have looked at so closely in our Springtime.

How that portion of our time is now used becomes more important. Maintaining and improving closer ties to our Brothers, families and friends, without the superfluous judgements of youth. Looking at what people do, more than what they say, looking at actions not rhetoric, has become a better way to judge others. Building memories in the hearts and minds of others of our own deeds to be remembered by. Have we completed our own smooth Ashlar from the Springtime of our life or will it be left in rough shape when we traveled to the Celestial Lodge above? I leave you, my Brothers with this thought, remember the 24 inch gauge, do not set aside your Ashlar to be smoothed a little at later time, work on it a little every day as it will always need more work so that when you lay down your working tools you will hear those words. "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord".

Arizona Grand Lodge Website

In an ongoing effort to keep in touch with the Masons of Arizona, the Social Media Committee of the Grand Lodge of Arizona has launched an online Social Media monthly newsletter to recap some of the items each month that are trending around the State.

We hope that it will encourage communication and share knowledge around the State while also giving another outlet to the activities of our many Lodges in Arizona. As is the case with Social Media, we intend for it to be enjoyable and informative and hope that it will grow and adapt to the needs and wants of our Craft as it progresses.

There is a master list of #43 Masons accessible through "Grandview" on the website. You must log in to use it.

Kinishba Court #6

Happy June and Happy Father's Day to all the Dads out there!

May was an amazing month for Kinishba Court. The Annual Grand Court was held May 12-15 and our own Sir Knight Russel presided exceptionally as the Grand Royal Patron. We also had many members elected and installed to a Grand Office from Kinishba. Honored Lady Karen Machamer was installed as Grand Royal Matron! Honored Lady Alicia De La Cruz, and Sir Knight Roddy De La Cruz were installed in the Grand West as Grand Associate Matron and Grand Associate Patron. Also Honored Lady Jeannie Yunker was installed as Grand Treasurer, Honored Lady Mary Alta Cooper was installed as Grand Secretary, and Sir Knight Russell was Installed as Grand Commissioner of Appeal -4 years. Much of the Grand Court leadership is centered in Kinishba Court!

On May 22nd we held our annual installation of officers with Honored Lady Dianne Callahan and Sir Knight James Callahan take the leadership roles of Royal Matron and Royal Patron. We look forward to our new year.

We have our last meeting before the summer break on Wednesday June 5th, and then we will be getting ready for the international session of the Supreme Council, Order of the Amaranth, Inc. We are very excited for this as on July 4th, our own Bizzy Herbolsheimer will be assuming the Supreme Throne as the Supreme Royal Matron- the international leader of Amaranth around the world. We can't wait for her reign and to see what she accomplishes.

We wish everyone a happy June!
